The book is divided into five sections, each of which focuses on a different type of endangered animal. The first section, "Vanishing Giants," tells the stories of elephants, rhinos, and tigers. These animals are all facing extinction due to habitat loss and poaching. The second section, "Creatures of the Sea," tells the stories of whales, dolphins, and sea turtles. These animals are all facing extinction due to pollution, overfishing, and climate change. The third section, "Birds of the Air," tells the stories of eagles, hawks, and owls. These animals are all facing extinction due to habitat loss and pollution. The fourth section, "Reptiles and Amphibians," tells the stories of snakes, lizards, and frogs. These animals are all facing extinction due to habitat loss, pollution, and climate change. The fifth section, "Insects and Other Invertebrates," tells the stories of butterflies, bees, and beetles. These animals are all facing extinction due to habitat loss, pollution, and climate change.

Don't Let Us Disappear is a beautifully written and illustrated book that is sure to touch your heart. The stories of these endangered animals are a reminder of the importance of protecting our planet and all of its creatures. I highly recommend this book to anyone who cares about the environment and the future of our planet.
